Dec. 2. 1896

NEW YORK.

THE RAEBURN BOOK CO..

185 GRAND STREET.

NOTE.

The work of compiling this little Almanac may seem to the general reader to have been a comparatively easy task, nevertheless it consumed many of my leisure hours for the past few months. It was, however, a pleasing and congenial occupation for me and now that it is completed I trust it may prove of some interest to the admirers and students of "Scotland's Darling Poet," everywhere. It will be noticed that a few of the items enumerated are not of a very important character and in connection with this I beg to say that I shall feel greatly obliged to anyone who will suggest more appropriate items for any of the dates having this objection. Indeed items or suggestions having in view the making more perfect all future issues of the Almanac will be gratefully received at any time. Address care of the publishers.

Wishing to associate this Record with the name of a society of Scotsmen and Scottish Americans which does much each year to honor the memory and genius of Robert Burns in America, I take pleasure in dedicating it

TO
THE OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF

BOOKS PUBLISHED AND FOR SALE BY
THE RAEBURN BOOK CO.,
185 GRAND STREET,
New York City, N. Y.

TO AUTHORS:

The Raeburn Book Company makes a specialty of publishing on commission.

Manuscripts carefully prepared for publication so as to reduce printers' bills to a minimum.

Book printing undertaken at rates about half those usually charged and every attention given to mechanical details, so as to make each work a model of its kind.

The wide range of territory covered by the Raeburn Book Company and the number and standing of its agents gives it unequalled facilities for handling any work of which it recommends publication.

Estimates furnished. Correspondence solicited.

NEWSPAPER SUBSCRIPTION DEPARTMENT.

At the request of many friends, the Raeburn Book Company has added a subscription department to its business, paying particular attention to Scottish newspapers.

By this system Scots in America can procure their home paper, without any more trouble than is expended in ordering a local journal.

All newspapers and periodicals supplied at publishers' rates. Terms include postage. Any newspaper or magazine issued in Great Britain sent direct to subscribers from publishers' office, thus giving subscribers home news a week at least earlier than by any other service.

THE RIGHT HON. W. E. GLADSTONE.

After reading "The Scot in America," the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, wrote to the author, Dr. Ross, as follows :

"The power which Scotland has exhibited beyond her own borders of contributing by her spare energies to enhance the social forces in other countries is a very noteworthy feature in the history of OUR race.

"PROGRESS," ST. JOHN, N. B.

"A mine of information to the public lecturer and after-dinner speaker who would exploit the Caledonian. From the preface to the closing chapter these 441 pages are packed with instances."

THE NEW YORK COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER.

"Dr. Ross is well known as an erudite and entertaining writer. His present work, 'The Scot in America,' is the result of many years' study and research. For the present it may rank as authoritative, nor is it at all likely to be superseded. The mass of material which he has sifted is immense. He is to be congratulated not only upon his talent as a historian, but as well upon his industry, a quality far rarer in these days of indifferent study."

WESTERN BRITISH-AMERICAN.

"'The Scot in America,' is a new and interesting work from the pen of Peter Ross, LL. D., the well known authority on matters Scotch in the United States and Canada. Like all of Dr. Ross' previous literary efforts, 'The Scot in America' has an intrinsic merit and charm of diction that will be sure to win it a wide circulation among the patriotic and cultured Scots of America. * * * A wonderfully instructive and entertaining volume, well worthy the perusal of all Scottish Americans and should find a place in the library or parlor of every home."
